Editorial

The time has come to celebrate 100 years of education at Railway Town Public School and we are all very excited to be able share this significant occasion with past principals, teachers, students and parents.

Behind the scenes, staff have worked tirelessly to put together a wonderful display of photographs and memorabilia. When people walk into our school hall on Friday and Saturday, it will appear as if we have turned back the time 100 years. Students and staff will be dressed in period costume creating the illusion of a living museum.

Our supper event on Thursday night will be an opportunity for people to reunite after many years and reminisce about the good old days at the Wills Street School. An official ceremony will take place on Friday at 12:00 followed by the P&C Fete at 4:00. We look forward to seeing you there to help us celebrate our 100th birthday in style.

Have a great week...
