Editorial

Last week couldn't have ended on a better note with many of the staff and students joining in the fun of Pyjama Day. It was even more exciting to see some of our parents turn up in their PJs and Onesies for the school assembly! Well done everyone and thank you to the SRC for organising another great day in our school.

I would like to welcome two more members to our staff. Mr Solama and Mrs Minnis have been employed to cover some of my Library lessons and also to teach Science. Mr Darke will now teach Library on a Wednesday. Employing extra staff will enable me to spend more quality time attending to administrative duties and assisting teachers and students when needed.

On a final note I would like to say how impressed I am with the majority of students wearing appropriate school uniform.

Principal
